

D.T1.1.5 Joint IN SITU Social Impact Infographic

The IN SITU project aims at increasing the social problem solving capacities and improving entrepreneurial skills and competences of people living in the six project partner regions who are currently not in education, employment or training. Through a strong transnational cooperation of public/private partners from six Central European Member States, the project will focus on younger and older (50+) citizens who are unemployed or at risk of unemployment but who have brilliant and innovative ideas that could help to solve social challenges.

In order to support this target group, regional triangles have been defined in all partner regions made up of
(1) expert support, care and third sector organisations;
(2) social innovation and entrepreneurship experts;
(3) public/private funding initiatives.

The regional triangles will support the target group in the development of their social innovative ideas. Not only will the social entrepreneurs learn from and with each other also the diverse players of the triangles will be able to dynamically build their capacities and exchange knowledge and experiences at a regional and transnational level.

IN SITU will therefore be in every respect a fruitful learning project.
